

FinTech Delegation with Copenhagen Fintech

Berlin

Date: March 28th-29th

COPENHAGEN FINTECH

Copenhagen FinTech is an association built on the vision of creating a Danish growth adventure within FinTech. Copenhagen hosts a diverse, collaborative and fast-growing fintech community built around one of Europe's leading fintech incubators and accelerators, Copenhagen FinTech Lab. 200+ fintech startups in Denmark and 50 companies from more than 20 countries use the bustling atmosphere of the Copenhagen FinTech Lab as the base for developing their solutions.

We combine the visionary ideas of fintech entrepreneurs, the experience of the established financial sector, the desire for societal benefits of the public sector and the research from the universities with the overarching purpose of building a thriving fintech ecosystem for the benefit of all stakeholders.

Contact: Oliver Sjøstedt, os@copenhagenfintech.dk

Our delegation is a great collection of scaleups from the Danish FinTech ecosystem, ready to explore opportunities across borders. Our startups are looking for partnerships, investments and new markets in the German FinTech ecosystem. This specific delegation is aimed for partnerships with German financial institutions. The delegation is part of our Global ScaleUp Program which is done together with The Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Denmark, Rebecca Homkes and DLA Piper.

CrediWire

Credewire

Credewire helps companies, accountants, banks, and developers make financial data more simple by providing a platform that links financial services with real time credit rating and benchmark data. By forming a reliable overview of the financials of a company and allow management to share it with the selected partners such as the bank, the investor, the Board of Directors, or the accountant, CrediWire reduces the time spent on reporting so that management can use the time to create value in the company instead.

Ernit

ERNIT enables financial institutions to empower children with essential lifelong skills. The company does this in a gamified pocket money app connected to a realtime bank account in a full white label solution. ERNIT is already live with a full bank integration in Denmark. Two other launches are already planned with other bank partners later this year.

LIKVIDO

Likvido

Likvido is a Danish debt collection start-up that has digitalized billing, registration, bookkeeping and debt collection so that all of this runs in sync and is fully automated.
